Senior React Native Developer

Description

We're looking for a Senior React Native Developer to join us and work with an international tech company building complex software solutions for niche markets.

Our team is passionate about creating high-quality mobile applications. We don't micromanage — we give you ownership, trust, and the freedom to find the best solutions. Independence, attention to detail, and commitment to quality define how we work.

Responsibilities

- Develop advanced mobile applications using React Native for both iOS and Android.
- Architect and implement new features ensuring performance, scalability, and clean code.
- Collaborate with backend developers, designers, and product managers to deliver seamless experiences.
- Debug, troubleshoot, and optimize apps for speed and reliability.
- Stay current with React Native tools, libraries, and best practices.
- Take full ownership of delivering high-quality, maintainable, and reliable mobile solutions on time.

Qualifications

- Extensive experience in mobile development with React Native and solid understanding of React.js.
- Strong JavaScript (ES6+) skills and mobile app architecture knowledge.
- Experience integrating third-party APIs and native modules (iOS & Android).
- Ability to work independently and lead projects with high-quality results.
- Excellent written and spoken English.
- Familiarity with state management (e.g., Redux) and version control (Git).

Job Benefits

- 100% remote work and flexible hours.
- Competitive pay in USD.
